One of the biggest challenges facing Africa is the lack of an adequate power system.

Being at the Mass and seeing people there taking comfort in our ultimate Catholic ritual — the blessing of the Holy Mass — made me think back to this quote and the truth behind it.

All those who believe people in their 70s lived through the “depression” need to read history books or at least google it.